Education and Professional Background

She is currently working as a research assistant with CSDG, on the DFID funded Youth Vulnerability and Exclusion Project. Penda Diallo has a MLitt in Peace and Conflict Studies from St Andrews University and a BA (Hons) in Marketing Communication and Advertising from De Montfort University (Leicester).

Penda has also been advocating for the improvement of issues affecting children in armed conflict. As a result of this she has spoken both at the EU and UN on issues related to children and armed conflict. Penda has worked for Helen Keller Worldwide in Guinea as a communication counsellor on their youth and adolescent programme (Feb-Sept03). She was also one of the Peer-Educator for the Institute of Labor and Community (New York, Jan-Aug02).
