

Warren Johannes holds a Bachelor of laws from Fort Hare University, South Africa. He also recently completed an MA in Human Rights from Fort Hare University, South Africa. Warren is a research fellow as the Oliver Tambo Chair for Human Rights at the University Of Fort Hare. Warren has been an activist for gender and human rights issues and is an admitted advocate of the High Court in South Africa. Warren has facilitated several projects, including an advocacy project for commercial sex workers. Warren has been a project coordinator/manager for several UNAID, USAIDS and EU funded projects for the last ten years.

Research interests:

- The use of Force
- Human Rights and Humanitarian Law
- Peace building in Post conflict Countries